The Art of Participatory Leadership

Hosting Conversations that Matter

a 2-day intensive on the patterns and practices to design powerful processes and effective communication

It's 2023 and most of us are back hosting and facilitating live, in-person meetings and events, even as we continue to work in virtual spaces. Yay! And, oh my gosh, it can be exhausting.

What will the Art of Participatory Leadership offer you? The opportunity to renew your facilitation and hosting skills and/or acquire new ones, in a space where you can connect with others who share similar goals and who want to create meeting spaces and experiences that are meaningful, generative and productive.

Create Engaging, Productive Meetings and Events

Patterns and practices shared in this 2-day intensive will help in planning and in understanding the human dynamics that show up in our meeting spaces so you are better equipped to address them.

You will receive a short introduction to Worldviews and Worldview Intelligence (because it's us) and you will learn about and experience the following patterns and practices: The Four-Fold Practice, Chaordic Path and Chaordic Stepping Stones, The Power of the Diamond of Participation – Divergence-Emergence-Convergence, How High-Performance Teams are created and sustained, World Café, Open Space Technology, Circle Practice, Powerful Questions and the Responsive Planning Framework.
